

To give few people/groups more control over our media is very dangerous and could limit free speech. Few trust the media do not make it worse. It's sad that in this free country we are forced to rely on media outlets from other countries for unbiased information. Media in the USA are nothing but carefully controlled mouthpieces for a very liberal agenda. The FCC has an obligation to protect "our" airwaves.